DETAILED ACTION

1. This application is a 371 of PCT/IT02/00780, published as WO 03/061357 A1.

Response to Amendment

2. The amendment filed September 13, 2006 is noted.
3. Claims 12-16, 23-29, and 32-43 are now pending.

Priority

4. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Information Disclosure Statement

5. The information disclosure statement (IDS) submitted on June 28, 2004 is in compliance with the provisions of 37 CFR 1.97. Accordingly, the information disclosure statement is being considered by the examiner.

Drawings

6. The drawings were received on June 28, 2004. These drawings are acceptable.

Specification

7. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because: (1) it recites reference characters which require the abstract to be read in conjunction with other parts of the application; and (2) the abstract does not recite process steps. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

8. Applicant is reminded of the proper content of an abstract of the disclosure.

A patent abstract is a concise statement of the technical disclosure of the patent and should include that which is new in the art to which the invention pertains. If the patent is of a basic nature, the entire technical disclosure may be new in the art, and the abstract should be directed to the entire disclosure. If the patent is in the nature of an improvement in an old apparatus, process, product, or composition, the abstract should include the technical disclosure of the improvement. In certain patents, particularly those for compounds and compositions, wherein the process for making and/or the use thereof are not obvious, the abstract should set forth a process for making and/or use thereof. If the new technical disclosure involves modifications or alternatives, the abstract should mention by way of example the preferred modification or alternative.

The abstract should not refer to purported merits or speculative applications of the invention and should not compare the invention with the prior art.

Where applicable, the abstract should include the following:

- (1) if a machine or apparatus, its organization and operation;
- (2) if an article, its method of making;
- (3) if a chemical compound, its identity and use;
- (4) if a mixture, its ingredients;
- (5) if a process, the steps.

Extensive mechanical and design details of apparatus should not be given.

9. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

10. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

11. Claims 12-16, 23-29, and 32-43 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

A. Claims 12-16 and 23-29 recite "a system-method," followed by a combination of apparatus and process claims, which renders the claims indefinite. It is impossible to determine whether the applicant is claiming an apparatus (i.e., system) or a process. 35 U.S.C. § 101 states: "Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title." While a process claim may recite structural apparatus limitations; and an apparatus claim may recite limitations defining the use in a process of certain parts of the apparatus, the claims must clearly define either an apparatus (i.e., system) or a process to comply with 35 U.S.C. § 101.

B. Claim 12 recites "a computer controlled machine is used," which renders the claim indefinite because it is unclear how the machine is used. Because a dependent claim necessarily incorporates all of the limitations of the independent claim(s) from which it depends, claims 13-16 and 23-29 are similarly rejected.

C. Claims 12 and 32 also recite "by means of points" and "surface interested area," both of which are indefinite. The meanings of these phrases, according to conventional English syntax, are unclear. Hence, the metes and bounds of the claimed subject matter is impossible to determine. Because a dependent claim necessarily incorporates all of the limitations of the independent claim(s) from which it depends, claims 13-16, 23-29, and 32-43 are similarly rejected.

Conclusion

12. The prompt development of clear issues in the prosecution history requires that applicant's reply to this Office action be fully responsive (MPEP § 714.02). When filing an amendment, applicant should specifically point out the support for any amendment made to the disclosure, including new or amended claims (MPEP §§ 714.02 & 2163). A fully responsive reply to this Office action, if it includes new or amended claims, must therefore include an explicit citation (i.e., page number and line number) of that/those portion(s) of the original disclosure which applicant contends support(s) the new or amended limitation(s).
